

Season's Greetings

From all of us at RSBC

RSBC

Royal Society for Blind Children

Registered Charity No. 307892.

HIGHLIGHTS 2022

February

We moved into the Life Without Limits Centre (LWLC). The Centre, which had been an ambition of the Society for some years, was made possible through the generosity of individuals, including the businessman Richard Desmond, as well as companies and other organisations.

April

We hosted the first Friends and Family Day at the LWLC on 9th April welcoming many to the Centre for the first time. We were entertained by the talented young people and there were activities for everyone to appeal to everyone.

June

EPR showcased the Centre during the London Festival of Architects on 18th June.

March

We started to deliver services in, and from the Centre using the extensive technology that we have in the Centre.

May

In May we celebrated the support of our fabulously generous philanthropists. It was an absolute pleasure to show them around the completed Life Without Limits Centre - without them, the LWLC would still be a dream.

HIGHLIGHTS 2022

July

On 8th July we celebrated as 5 students graduated from RSBC's Dorton College.

September

Dorton College started the new College year with 16 students from 14 local authorities across London and South East.

December

We brought the year's festivities to a close with our Winter Festival on 17th December.

August

Over the school holidays we ran our summer programme of activities including a 3 day musical Workshop in partnership with Handel & Hendrix and a Website creation workshop over 2 days.

October

Following our Autumn Festival on 27th, when the Centre was adorned with pumpkin carvings, we then held our annual AQA Awards event on 29th October, celebrating the achievements of the young people during 2022.

The design on the front of this message was designed by Emma, one of the many children and young people RSBC support. Emma is a member of the RSBC Sisterhood group of girls and Young Women aged 11 to 25 who meet online and in person.

Royal Society for Blind Children

Registered Charity No. 307892.